

THE FRESHMAN BUNDLE

Includes over $10,000 worth of freebies!

FREE 3-month trial of TourTrackr

A value of $675, this TourTrackr trial puts the leading tour management platform at your fingertips. And even better, IQ was the first CRM on the Hill to integrate with this technology.

FREE 3 months of digital ads

Partner with Leidos and the IQ team and immediately get $3,000 worth of digital ads over the course of 2 months. Digital ads can promote events your office is hosting and highlight constituent services you will provide to the public.

FREE website design, launch and hosting

All Freshman IQ offices will have the opportunity to work with our team to select a website template valued at $5,200 and have our team manage the project from design consultation, to content input, to launch, to hosting your website on an ongoing basis.

$1,250 in credit towards your first digital town hall event

Digital town halls are a critical component to every successful comms strategy, especially today. Sign with IQ and get a big head start in funding your first event. A great way to personally and safely thank your community for sending you to Washington!

FREE district voter data

Even the most brilliant communications strategy is useless without high quality data hygiene. Choose the #1 CRM in Congress and we'll load your database with names, addresses and phone numbers of registered voters in your district.

EXPERT SUPPORT. GOOD PEOPLE.

When you choose IQ as your CRM partner, you become part of our family. Your office is assigned a dedicated IT Consultant (ITC) who truly becomes an extension of your staff. No other CRM vendor can match our team's expertise and responsiveness. In fact, some vendors only offer support via chat, forcing offices to explain their unique processes time after time. Our team not only solves your problems when you need them, they also help you avoid problems in the first place.

And finally, you'll find in the early days of our partnership together that our people truly enjoy what they do. They're not only experts in the field, they'll also be a welcome presence in your office and a face that will always make your staff smile when they walk through the door.

Select IQ as your CRM vendor, enjoy the perks of this special bundle and give your staff the gift of an expert resource in your office.
